

(How I Love) The Me I See in You

When you declare I dance divinely
I couldn't agree more.
And when your arms entwine me
How I love what you adore.

You brighten my attire;
You're my best accessory.
Oh how I so admire
The you I see in me!

You'll say something clever
After you've had a few.
You believe I'll love forever
The me I see in you!

To hold me in your embrace
Must be an epiphany!
For you see in my face
The you I see in me!

Should I tear up when you praise me
Please don't stop until you're through.
When you're mad you drive me crazy!
How I love the me I see in you!

You know what I won't hear of?
People who sing while they pee!
I behold in your eyes, my dear love,
The you I see in me.

So give it to me one more time -
That cute little thing that you do -
And I will swear once more that I'm
In love with the me I see in you!

As told to Jackson Hogen by the Mad Hatter
© January 10, 2012