

Restless Soul

This train won't stop at the station;
This plane won't touch ground;
I understand your frustration,
But I ain't gonna slow down.

These wheels won't turn into pit lane;
This boat never pulls to shore;
So stifle your complainin' -
I've heard it all before!

"Why don't you up and settle down?
Maybe go back to school?"
"You always moving town to town!
And acting like a Fool!"

But that's just what it is, my friends,
Life as it's meant to be.
I refuse to make amends
For wanting to be free.

Although I'm moving constantly
I never get away.
I always travel along with me.
Every fucking day.

I'm busy as a burning flame
Even moving when I'm still.
Eaten up by what I am:
An ever-restless will

To find a place where I can sleep,
Where darker fears can't find me.
So when I wake I won't keep
Pressing on so blindly.

I'm a particle in motion
That's neither here nor there.
In search of that devotion
I lose when you're not here.

Jackson Hogen
© October 18, 2012