

Where Did My Breath Go?

I'm just having a drink
Trying not to think
About much that usually gets me.
I stare at the wall
Seeing nothing at all
There's nobody gonna upset me.

I'm feeling okay
Forgetting my day
You see, my life's kind of a bummer.
I'm missing a spark
A light in the dark
Someone to strum my strummer.

Then I catch an eye
And I say, "Oh, my!"
Who's that by the kitchen?
You caught me guessing
I spied perfection
I feel something itchin'.

I gotta stop and ask myself [beat, beat, beat]:

Where did my breath go?
How did my young eyes lose their sight?
Where did my heart flow?
How did my wings lose their power of flight?

Where did the world go?
All I can see before me is you.
I'm in a trance now.
And forgotten all that I knew.

I can't let you go.
I'm in your undertow.
I'm never leaving your side.
No matter what I do
I'm gonna need ya too
So let's take this show outside!

I wanna tell the world [beat, beat, beat]:

Where did my breath go?
How did my young eyes lose their sight?
Where did my heart flow?
How did my wings lose their power of flight?

Where did the world go?
All I can see before me is you.
I'm in a trance now.
And forgotten all that I knew.

Where did my breath go?
How did my young eyes lose their sight?
Where did my heart flow?
How did my wings lose their power of flight?

Jackson Hogen
© September 12, 2012